Security Doors | LPCB Approved Wooden Doors

Our Wooden Security Doors are an ideal solution primarily for internal use to provide additional security measures for a vast array of commercial premises, specifically for medium to high-risk environments. Similarly to our Security Rated Doors, these are available in SR ratings SR2 – SR6 and can provide protection against heat and fire damage if required.

With a range of locking options, including the ability to add Access Control systems or connect to alarm systems and even barricader bars (which can be fitted with an emergency override), opting to install Wooden Security Doors within your premises would provide a wealth of benefits in regards to securing your assets and preventing unauthorised access.

Wooden Security Doors provide the optimal preventative access solution for premises with the requirement to protect high-volumes of cash, in addition to adding a further security measure for vulnerable areas.

We have the ability to manufacture our Wooden Security Doors to be made-to-measure, providing assurance that the final security solution provided covers all of the necessary requirements and perfectly suits your individual security needs, offering a complete Bespoke Security Door solution. Our expert team of in-house engineers provide a full installation service of our Wooden Security Doors, providing assurance that the job is completed efficiently, effectively and with the utmost professionalism.
